An Impressive Leader

One thing in particular has impressed us in the current election campaign.

That is, that despite the frantic armwaving and noisy accusations of the various political party leaders, Prime Minister St. Laurent has remained calm, but nevertheless vigorous and direct—a statesman rather than a politician.

That's why we particularly like the following editorial in the May 28 issue of the Toronto Star Weekly:

Canada's prime minister, the Rt. Hon. Louis Stephen St. Laurent, is a man of unusual personal charm He is not pompous, does not stand on dignity, and is cordial to those who wish to see him on business. In short, he is a thorough gentleman. His courtesy is instinctive and not cultivated for political purposes.

UNIVERSITY PRESS BUREAU

The University of Alberta is to be congratulated for its formation of a Press Bureau.

Not only are the University's 11,000 graduates interested in hearing more about their Alma Mater, but the people of Alberta are interested in, and should hear more about, their University.

The University, besides being the province's cultural centre, is the seat of much scientific research.

Its graduates are the trained citizens of Alberta who will aid this province in becoming more prosperous materially and culturally.

The people should hear more of their University, and the formation of the Press Bureau will undoubtedly ensure that they will.

Showers End Fire Ordeal

Weary Firefighters Rest After Two-Week Battle

Rain showers spreading out over northern Alberta this week are expected to end one of the worst forest fire ordeals experienced in the north country.

By Wednesday, after three days of intermittent rain, forestry officials stated most Alberta forest fires were under control. Although rains were light in the northland, they were enough to aid weary fighters bring the two big fires in the Lac la Biche and Lesser Slave Lake areas under control.

There was still a lot of work to be done, digging up smoldering ground fires, clearing lanes with bulldozers and rebuilding burned-down homes and installations. But, if luck held, no further major outbreaks were likely.

175 FIRES

The tinder-dry condition of the countryside since April had set off 175 fires this spring, forestry officials revealed. In the Slave Lake area alone, 15 families (74 persons) were made homeless by the fires.

As early as May 9 anxious government officials cracked down on fire regulations and finally enforced a ban on clearing lands by fire.

RAILWAY CUT

By May 11, 24 separate fires were being fought, with big blazes springing up west, north and east of Slave Lake. Spreading rapidly, the Slave Lake fires cut railway and telegraph links on the Northern Alberta Railway.

Twenty-five-mile-an-hour winds sprang up to fan the flames and by May 13, 15 families were burned out of their homes. Other serious fires sprang up in the Chip Lake area, southwest of Edmonton, the Lac la Biche district, High Prairie, Sturgeon Lake and Buck Lake.

A total of 400 men, backed by bulldozers, turned out to stop the wall of flame that swept through the tinder-dry forests. High winds whipped up flames in the High Prairie area and 11 miles of fire line were lost as fire jumped across fire guards ploughed with bulldozers.

By the week-end rain and snow helped a little but new fires were reported at the first of the week.

Toiling crews of firefighters had fires under control at Breton, Whitecourt, Edson, Chip Lake, Grande Prairie and Peace River districts by the week-end.

In the Lesser Slave area, a fire line, nine miles wide in places, held the flames away from the best timber stands. On Saturday, slight rains eased the pressure and gave crews time to extend their fire lines.

Three new fires broke out in the Grouard, Fort Assinboine and Lac la Biche districts but were kept under control. A steady down pour of rain Tuesday gave firefighters the final support they needed to bring the blazes under control.

Gas Pipeline Would Use 500,000,000 Cu. Ft. Daily

Announcement of plans to build a gas pipeline all the way from the Athabasca gas fields to B.C. and as far down the west coast as California has caused Albertans to stop and do a bit of thinking.

Albertans were aware that their natural resources are vast and some of the most abundant in North America. But the plans for the 1,460-mile gas pipeline to the coast was beginning to cause some concern.

Most Albertans wanted to see the province's natural resources developed and utilized to open up the west as a new industrial and commercial centre. They had seen the oil industry spring up overnight with all its accompanying prosperity and increased business.

Natural gas fields in Alberta have rivalled oil and coal in importance as fuel for the long, cold winters. But natural gas, like oil, is only a limited resource and the plans for the new coast pipeline caused Albertans some doubt as to the future of gas as a fuel reserve.

30-INCH LINE

According to estimates by the West Coast Transmission Company the 30-inch pipeline, costing $174,000,000 would pump out 500,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas per day to the Pacific Northwest and Northern California.

Officials predicted that once the gasline was built to Vancouver, Seattle, Tacoma and Portland, a duplicate line would have to be constructed. In addition a projected branch line would turn southeast at Ashcroft in B.C., and supply Vernon, Kelowna and the industrial centre of Trail.

To some citizens it seemed as if the pipeline would drain Alberta of its natural gas reserves in no time at all.

Political leaders, jockeying for positions in the coming federal election race were quick to reassure citizens of any doubts they might have about Alberta's natural resources.

Social Credit Leader Solon Low, said he favored export of oil and gas from Alberta only as long as it was a surplus over and above the needs of the people in the province. "What we do insist upon," said Low, is that the Alberta government shall have undisputed control of both export and conservation so that the needs of the people can be filled first."

Importance of the gas problem to the province came out in reports that the government was considering holding a special summer session of the legislature to tackle the gas export problem.

Harper Prowse, Liberal leader in the legislature, had brought up the question of gas exports before February's session of the legislature closed. The Socreds had vaguely replied that a special session would be called if the "government deemed such a move necessary."

Last week, Premier Manning told newsmen a special session on gas exports may have to be called. No definite decision on the session would be made, he said, until the attorney-general's department prepares a report on export legislation.

Relocation of the Union Station and yards to the south edge of the city probably will be the last phase in the long range proposals to improve the heart of the Capital. The complete plan, shown in the above photo of the model, is for a large park surrounded by public buildings. First step will be the construction of a new bridge over the Rideau Canal between the present Plaza and Laurier Ave. bridges (top and bottom) to relieve congestion at the Plaza and divert heavy traffic away from Wellington Street in front of the Parliament Buildings. The bridge will be a joint federal-municipal project, the city providing the approaches and the government building the bridge. Funds are available in Parliament's initial $2,5000,000 grant to the National Capital Fund last year. The plan recommends location of Ottawa's proposed new city hall on one of the bridge approaches, but the city has yet to decide on a site. The photo shows a suitable type of building at the east end of the new bridge (right). Large building lower left is the proposed National Institute of Fine Arts which would house, among other cultural institutions, the National Art Gallery of Canada. (Model constructed by the National Film Board.)

GRIN AND BEAR IT!

LAC LA BICHE—The story of the headless rooster prominently displayed in all the dailies reminds us of an actual poultry yarn in Calgary about 50 years ago. In those days, dear reader, we did not buy the eggs by the dozen but by fifties and hundreds. A certain landlord operating a boarding house told her cook one day: "Bessie, I believe the grocer does not deliver 100 eggs in the deal basket so the next time he calls have him count the eggs one by one in your presence."

Came the next time. "God morning, Bessie," cheerfully exclaimed Jack, the delivery boy, "here are the groceries."

"Hold on a moment," said Bessie, "the misses believes you are short changing her on them eggs, so here is a basket and now will you please count the 100 eggs in my presence?"

"Why, certainly," replied Jack cheerfully, "here goes 2, 4, 6, 8, 10, 12, 14, 16, 18. Oh, by the way, Bessie, did you hear about that terrible railway accident in New Orleans?"

"Why, no," answered Bessie. "What happened?"

"The worst in railway history," said Jack. "Thirty-four were killed. Can you imagine that? Just think of it, 34, all right, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, 52. Say Bessie, did you hear the basketball score last night? Our boys won by twelve points, the team from the States scored 52 and our boys scored 64, yes, you bet we really have a wonderful team. Imagine 64 points, 64, 66, 68, 70, 72, 74, 76, 78, 80. Did you know, Bessie, that old John Doe across the road died at the ripe old age of 88. Yes, Bessie, right on the dot, 88, 90, 92, 94, 96, 98, 100, and there you are my dear girl, one hundred eggs, right on the count. And don't forget to tell your misses. I counted them right in front of you. We are always right on the dot."

Knife Victim Shows Progress

Mrs. Jex, 60-year-old wife of the injured old-timer was found by an R.C.M.P. posse the following day and charged with wounding. She is now on remand in Fort Saskatchewan jail.

DONATVILLE NEWS

DONATVILLE — The church picnic was held on Sunday with a record crowd. The weather man smiled and the day was perfect. Boyle won the baseball tournament and a very good brand of baseball was played by all teams. Business in the refreshment booths was brisk and when final returns are compiled, there is no doubt the day will prove an outstanding success.

A lively and amusing meeting of the Peace and Harmony Association was held under the chairmanship of Mr. L. R. Duplessis. Certain irregularities of the annual meeting were discussed and as a result the members voted that all business transacted from that time was cancelled. As a result arrangements for the Donatville sports day are indefinite.

Although fields are becoming green, growth is far from normal due to frost and continued dry weather. The main topic of conversation whenever two farmers meet, is the possibility of rain.

James (Sonny) Duplessis who is attending school in Lac la Biche, was a brief visitor to the district, renewing old acquaintances.

Woman Pilot With Commercial Ticket Sticks To Old Job

Has Logged Over 1,000 Hours But Will Keep P.O. Position

EDMONTON.—One of Canada's few women pilots qualified to "fly anything with propellors" is going to keep right on with her stenographer's job at the Edmonton post office.

Recently licensed as a transport pilot, Margaret Littlewood figures there are too many "boy pilots" looking for jobs these days for her to want to crash the field.

"But it's a personal satisfaction which I dreamed about 10 years ago when I first started to fly," she says. "I didn't know what a transport licence meant then, but I knew it was the highest rating a pilot can get. And I wanted it."

Margaret, who flies for the fun of it" at the Edmonton flying club where she took the instruction that qualified her, says she's happily adjusted in her position of ace stenographer to Postmaster A. W. Gregory.

Having flown since 1939, the trim aviator has logged more than 1,000 hours since she first left the ground at a Toronto airport. Since that time, she has flown at Trenton, Ont., where she received her instructor's rating and has trained many other persons to fly tamer planes than the multi-engine craft she now takes up.

She shrugs off the curiosity of people, saying: "It's no novelty any more that a woman can fly a plane."

Letter to The Editor

Dear Sir,

I wish to have this interesting item published in the paper if you have space to print it.

Recently I watched a strange wild goose roaming on my father's farm. This goose was some 25 yards away from me. I looked at it through my telescope and it was all white, except that the tips of its wings were black, when it got up to fly. It looked a lot like the domestic goose but its beak was somewhat a bit different. We couldn't even identify this strange bird, but it was probably one of the fish-pursuing birds, allied to swans, or pelicans. I thought it was indeed a beauty.

Thanking you, I am,

Yours very truly,
KENNETH HANSON,
Bawlf, Alta.

Government Will Buy Then Develop Irrigation Co.

Plan Would Open Up 240,000 More Acres in Alberta

MEDICINE HAT. — Government auditors and irrigation engineers will investigate Canada Land and Irrigation company holdings to prepare an agreement of sale for consideration of the Dominion government.

This was announced by Agriculture Minister Gardiner after a closed conference with Dave W. Hays, general manager of the company.

Terms of the suggested sale were not revealed but is understood to be in the neighborhood of $2,250,000 ,with an additional federal expenditure of $3,500,000 required to complete the extension of irrigation works from Vauxhall to Medicine Hat.

The plan would open some 240,000 acres of irrigable land, part of this the title of the province. The Alberta government is already in agreement with federal authorities to bear their share of the development.

Most people judge their fellowmen by the way they accept them and their ideas.

HYLO LOCAL NEWS

Mr. Steve Pidzarko, Mrs. D. Shalapay's brother, brought the folks in his truck. All except Mr. S. Shalapay returned home on Sunday afternoon. Mr. Shalapay is expected to visit with his daughter for a week or two longer.

The Hylo Ladies' Society held their picnic at the Ball Park and were favored with everything of the best, fine weather, a huge crowd, plenty of fastball games and just oodles of good sports.

People carried away prizes from bingo, hoopla, dime pitch, etc. Children carried away prizes from races, while ball teams carried home their winnings. The Ladies' Society ketp the dough, and plenty of it! In the next issue of the paper a statement is expected to appear regarding the big rake-off.

The fastball games went to Hylo Beavers first and Lac la Biche Legionnaires second. The prize for the girls' team went to the Lac la Biche team, well earned. The unfortunate teams were Noral and Craigend who lost their games to Lac la Biche and Hylo.

The Hylo Misericordia Church was visited by Rev. Father Procentey of the Greek Catholic Church to favor the Hylo Ukrainian parishioners with a service in their own language for the occasion of the Ascension Day by the old calendar.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Grandinetti returned home on Monday, June 6, from a week in Edmonton where Mrs. Grandinetti visited her doctors. Donnie and Michael were certainly two happy children to see their mother back looking a great deal better. Mr. Ed Simbalist met the couple at the train and drove them home to the farm.

The homes of Mrs. Peter Tymchuk and that of Mrs. M. Mohowich of Hylo were visited by their two sisters and one brother who came on Saturday and Sunday from Egremont and those parts. Some of their children and grandchildren were with them.

The Hylo hall on Monday was the scene of the annual meeting of the Hylo Co-op Association. A speaker from Centrtal Co-op in Edmonton was present and various reports were presented. A completely new board of directors was elected to hold office for the next three, two and one year terms.

A film was presented showing how the consumer is protected by the Co-op test kitchens. Various other reels were presented and those especially enjoyed were "Just Weeds" and "Dances of Ukrainian Canadians." The evening closed in a community sing-song.

The following is a financial report from the macaroni and chicken dinner which was held in the church a couple of weeks or so ago.

Gross Income:

Supper	$111.93
Show	21.80
Dance	36.45
	$170.18
Expenses:	33.61
Clear Profit	$136.57

We heartily thank all who supported this supper.

GRASSLAND NEWS

GRASSLAND. — Mr. Romeo Hurtubise left on Thursday for Legal, intending to visit his daughter, Mrs. Cyr. Later he will proceed to Edmonton. where he will be staying with his son Lionel who was recently married. While in Edmonton he also will be staying with his daughter Rolande of the staff of the New General Hospital. We wish him a well-deserved rest among his children.

Some of the ladies, headed by Mrs. Hurtubise gave a shower to Miss Jill White, a few days before her marriage. About 35 ladies were present, and a good time and a plentiful lunch was enjoyed by all. The bride-to-be was radiant and thanked everyone for their generous gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jenkins have purchased a farm at Green Corner, west of Grassland, and have erected a temporary home. They are settling down for good here and we wish them the best of luck. Mr. Jenkins is a casualty of World War II, but states that in spite of his infirmity he is quite able to handle a farm.

The T.B. clinic was here on June 1,2 and 3 and handled over 750 cases.

On June 3 a marriage took place between Miss Jill White of Grassland, and Mr. Fred Schmeltzly of the Athabasca district. The ceremony was performed by Mr. Orval Jenkins of the Mormon Church. In the evening a dance was held at Grassland and a huge crowd packed the community hall, testifying to the popularity of the bride and groom.

Mr. A. C. White had the misfortune to lose a rubber-tired wagon and a load of lumber by fire last week. The wagon with its load had been left at Chambers mill last spring, as the road was too soft to haul it out.

Mrs. Sakulich has returned from hospital in Edmonton.

A marriage has been arranged and will take place at Holy Trinity Church, Grassland, on June 15 between Grace Alberta Putnam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs W. A. Putnam of Grassland. and Rev. Allan Howes of High Prairie, Alberta. Mr. Howes will be stationed at Lac la Biche and will be taking services at Grassland through the summer.

Mr. Alex Semeniuk was in the district last week and sold two Ford trucks to Mr. Meredith Guy and Mr. Bert Putnam. Mr. Guy bought a 1-ton truck, while Mr. Putnam's is of the half-ton variety.

SPEDDEN NEWS

A new second hand store is coming up at Spedden and will be completed in the near future. The proprietors will be Smith & Son.

The Spedden baseball club at a recent meeting decided to buy new uniforms for the players. The cost will be $125. They also plan to buy a new catcher's mitt.

The Spedden shoe shop is being remodelled and upon completion will furnish all types of footwear. Counters shall beautify the whole interior.

Miss Kathleen Meda, school teacher at Ardmore, visited Spedden during the holiday of the King's birthday. She is back at her school doing her best in bringing up the young generation for the years to come.

Grade 10 and 11 students of Spedden are writing their final divisional examinations. Grades 12 and 9 start writing their's June 22. Best of luck to all, hoping they all pass.

GOVERNMENT GIVES MINES NEW TAX DEAL

Canada's base metal mines will have a new taxation deal. Prime Minister St. Laurent quietly made the announcement last week while he was visiting the mining centre at Noranda, Quebec.

According to the P.M. the new tax deal will come about under Finance Minister Abbott's budget which was not passed by the commons before dissolution.

Mining company officials were quick to laud the new agreement which will allow new companies a three-year deferment of depreciation and pre-production write-offs.

In a nutshell, the new concessions mean that young companies will have a greater tax exemption once they are under way. It means they will be given consideration for the expenses they have been up against in getting their mines into production.

The change, affecting 1949 operations, extends to producers of lead, copper, znic and other base metals. Previously only gold mines were given the tax concessions.

According to the experts the new tax deal will (1) encourage more mining exploration; (2) aid individual prospectors; and (3) will help newly organizing mining companies compete with the big firms.

In the P.M.'s words the new tax deal should: "prove a real incentive to mining capital to explore and develop base metal mines."

Canada's great Leader

LOUIS ST. LAURENT, Prime Minister of Canada

As in all democracies, the personality of the prime minister is one of the major facts of Canadian politics, and, inevitably, a major issue in a national election. At the polls on June 27 the voter must ask himself, ahead of anything else, who should be head of the state.

Considering the alternatives available, the answer to that question should not be difficul.

In Louis St. Laurent Canada has found not only a great national leader but the most typical Canadian in its public life.

That he had high abilities of the mind was proved by his career in law. That he had wisdom in cabinet, unique gifts in parliamentary debate and a quick grasp of large affairs became clear as soon as he entered the Government. In international affairs, as one of the original advocates of the Atlantic Pact, he made himself overnight a world figure who spoke out as no Canadian before him, in the councils of the nations.

But he has also revealed something much larger — an understanding of ordinary people, because he is one of them.

This warm and essentially simple human being is the real St. Laurent, the product of the small town, of humble beginnings, hard work, a big family and the friendliness of country neighbors.

In blood, language and instincts he is the compact of our two great races. In character he is the quiet, homely and practical stuff of which the nation is made.

To the voter it is equally important that St. Laurent is the leader of a truly national party, with proved strength from coast to coast, the only party which can hope to form a stable government after the election. And not merely by office, but by unchallenged mastery of government, he is the leader of all the Canadian people.

St. Laurent's achievements as an international statesman, his government's achievements of debt reduction, tax reduction and increasing social security ALONE justify the election of him and his government.

HYLO. — The Hylo school classes entered the sports meet events which took place at Lac la Biche June 3 and returned home jubilantly boasting the prize of the banner which is a reward of the Lac la Biche school division for most points.

Although neither the Intermediate nor the Junior fastball teams were very strong, they entered like the fine sportsmen they are and gave other teams a chance to win a few points.

We are proud to know that our young folks can win and lose in a sporting manner.

Mrs. Alex Lozinski and her son, Mr. Bill Lozinski, returned from Edmonton on Friday, June 3. They both looked very well and only complained of having difficulty to swallow.

On Thursday, June 2, early in the morning, Mr. and Mrs. John Rosychuk became the proud parents of another daughter. Mr. J. Rosychug managed to return Mrs. Rosychuk to the hospital just in the nick of time. Connie thinks they will call the baby Diana. I believe that older sister, Joanne, has already her own ideas about the whole affair.

The Bruno Meardi's were sursurprised by a visitfrom relatives from Athabasca. Mrs. B. Meardi's father, Mr. S. ANIMALS HAVE FIELD DAY IN CITY

The spring horseshow and the Shrine Circus both took somewhat of a back seat this week compared to the antics of some animals in the Edmonton district.

During the week-end:

(1) Eleven horses ran away from an undisclosed destination, thundered over several gardens and lots in the vicinity of the airport. All but three of the nags returned home, wherever that was.

(2) Two dogs took after two goats in the Calder district. Last reports indicated tht dogs had not caught the goats.

(3) A woodpecker made a determined attempt to demolish a stucco and frame apartment building in the West End. Result: a chipped apartment block; a dented beak for the woodpecker.

(4) Earlier two calves had broken out of their pens wandered around the city for awhile and then returned. Two pigs did the same but stayed in the vicinity and uprooted gardens.

Saskatchewan River Dam Will Help Water Supply

REGINA. — The construction of the $66,360,000 south Saskatchewan river dam will affect the water supplies of Winnipeg, Brandon, Man., Moose Jaw, Sask., and Regina, G. L. MacKenzie, chief engineer for the prairie farm rehabilitation administration said recently.

Water will be diverted down the Qu'Appelle valley to restore the level of Buffalo Pound lake and give Regina and Moose Jaw an assured supply of mountain water.

Advertising Greater Force Behind Sales Than Ever Before

HAMILTON. — Retailers now recognize newspaper advertising as a greater force behind sales than ever before, John Giesen, director of the retail division, American Newspaper Publishers association's bureau of advertising said.

Mr. Giesen, one of the speakers at the retail clinic of the international affiliation of sales and advertising clubs conference scheduled arrived here today.

He said in an interview that retailers now are investing more money in the medium which produced sales. He saw no ceiling at the moment on retail advertising programs in newspapers.

North Boomtown Hits New Records in May

Edmonton, the west's most rapidly expanding city, continued to hit new records for the month of May.

By the end of last week, home building for this year was twice as great as at the same time last year (1,000 permits issued compared with 622 last year) .

Chortled the conservative Edmonton Journal in a news story, "The month is turning out to be the greatest in Edmonton building history."

And no one could deny the figures. Developments were coming so fast during the past two weeks that they were almost too much to keep track of.

Home and industrial building figures continued to soar, and one of the big announcements last week was that a $1,000,000 South Side steel products plant would be built by Edaco (Canada) Ltd., subsidiary of the British firm's English Drilling Equipment Co. Ltd., and English Steel Corporation Ltd.

NEW PLANT

Construction has begun on four acres between 79 and 80 avenues, on the west side of 101 street, and the plant will eventually turn out oil well drilling bits and mud pump equipment. It plans to have a three-million-dollar turnover each year.

Hundreds of home permits are being issued each month, and dozens of business and industrial firms are expanding. The law and order business has expanded, too, and civic and provincial authorities are discussing enlargement of the city police station.

Edmonton's industrial commissioner, G. W. Curtis, wrote an article for Western Business, and gave figures that would astonish anyone.

PERMITS

Building permit values have increased from $5 million dollars in 1944 to $27 million in 1948, and this year's estimates are $64 million.

These spectacular construction figures are reflected by bank clearing figures, and Mr. Curtis quoted official figures showing that Edmonton's business increased from almost $218 million in 1940 to almost $800 million last year.

This city has Canada's busiest airport, and handles more air freight than any city in the world. Landings in 1948 topped all records with a total of 82,500, and this year's is expected to be 100,000.

The population increase has been almost as imposing. In 1940, Edmonton had almost 92,000 people; this year census takers are expected to report an increase of 10,000 over last year to make the total about 136,000—almost 50 per cent in 10 years.

And this week another small sign of Edmonton's reputation as a boom city came forth.

Gene Autry, king of the singing cowboys, contacted the Chamber of Commerce about visiting here.

Missing Men Find Way Back After Much Wandering

Fire Fighters Had Only Dead Hawk to Eat In Day

NORDEGG.—Two Nordegg firefighters, missing since Monday night, wandered into town Wednesday while a crew of 500 combed fireswept timberland in search of them.

Bill Chawrun and Andrew Bunio, separated from a group of 12 firefighters survived for 24 hours in a ravished bushland with only a dead hawk for food.

The men said they left the others after the party became lost in dense underbrush, to try to locate a river or road which would guide them back to camp.

The missing men were part of a crew of 140 volunteer firefighters from Nordegg, 160 miles southwest of Edmonton, brought out to fight a fire. It has been spotted by a lookout patrol 14 miles northeast of Nordegg Sunday.

"We never should have strayed so far from the others," said Bunio, when he and Chawrun arrived, weak and exhausted.

"We trudged through 10 inches of snow and followed a small creek for ten miles in both directions," Bunion continued.

The two men built a small fire and spent Monday night beside it, before setting out in a blizzard in search of camp or companions.

Meanwhile the other eight members of the missing crew had been found by a search party.

AIR TRAFFIC CONTROL

Britain is establishing air corridors ten miles wide. They will form a system of aviation highways at heights of between 5,000 and 11,000 feet. This will ensure safer flying and prevent collisions between aircraft even in poor visibility. Both civil and military planes will be expected to conform to this new form of control.

When the truth hurts an enterprise, there is something wrong with the undertaking.

Socialism Not Answer To Economic Ills Pope Declares

VATICAN CITY. — Pope Pius has told Roman Catholics that socialism cannot be the answer to the world's economic ills.

The answer must be found in contracts between employers and workers which preserve the authority of the employer while providing for "the prosperity of all the members of the people," the pontiff said.

The Pope spoke aSturday night to delegations of Roman Catholic employers from Britain, Canada, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Italy. The text of his speech, delivered in French, was released by the Vatican.
